

It's All About Family!

Attention all Drama students!

We are beginning a department-wide program this year that will help us improve our family dynamic. It's a program that you can apply to your classes, your family, your friends, and your life to make you a better person and improve your relationships. It's not a box program; I've been doing research and pulling it together for you! Here's how the program works:

1. Choose another person to be your accountability partner. This should be a person you trust and talk with regularly who can help you keep practicing the skills we're working on each week.
2. Check the callboard EVERY DAY to read about upcoming events, and make sure to read the paper with the logo above. A new quality of family will be described each week, and that will be the focus of the week.
3. In addition, there will be a challenge relating to that topic each week. It is your responsibility to attempt the challenge throughout the week in class and especially in rehearsal.
4. At the end of each week, meet briefly with your accountability partner to discuss your successes and struggles with the week's challenge. Encourage each other.
5. Stick with the program each week, and you will experience wonderful changes in your life and your relationships. I promise it will work!

Thanks for getting onboard with this!
